ANNOUNCEMENT

OPEN SELECTION FOR INDIVIDUAL CONSULTANTS (PMU SOPHI & PMU InPULS) INDONESIA HEALTH SYSTEMS STRENGTHENING PROJECT

1. BACKGROUND

To support the achievement of the National Medium-Term Development Plan (RPJMN) 2020-2024, aligned with the health system reform agenda, and to improve universal health coverage and primary healthcare, the Government of Indonesia through the Ministry of Health has received financial support in the form of Foreign Loans (PLN) from several donor institutions, namely the World Bank (International Bank for Reconstruction and Development or IBRD), Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank (AIIB), Asian Development Bank (ADB), and Islamic Development Bank (IsDB), collectively referred to as Multilateral Development Banks (MDBs), for the financing of the Indonesia Health Systems Strengthening Project, hereafter referred to as the IHSS Project. The objective of the IHSS Project is to enhance the availability of functional equipment in public health facilities and increase the utilization of public health services across Indonesia. This program is planned to be implemented over the period 2024-2029.

For the implementation of the IHSS Project, the Government of Indonesia has signed a Loan Agreement totaling EUR 3,729,165,000 with the following lenders:

- a. International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) – World Bank regarding the Indonesia Health Systems Strengthening Project
- b. Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank (AIIB) regarding the Modernization of the Health System Project.
- c. Asian Development Bank (ADB) regarding the Primary Healthcare and Public Health Laboratories Upgrading and Strengthening Project.
- d. Islamic Development Bank (IsDB) regarding the Strengthening Indonesia's Healthcare Referral Network Project.

The IHSS Project consists of four parts: Part 1: Strengthening of Primary Healthcare in Indonesia (SOPHI), Part 2: Strengthening Indonesia's Healthcare Referral Network (SIHREN), Part 3: Indonesia Public Health Laboratory System Strengthening (InPULS), and Part 4: Project Management, Administration, Digitalization, and Training across SOPHI, SIHREN, and InPULS.

Support for Part 4 includes, among others, the provision of technical assistance and Additional Operational Cost for (a) IT support teams; (b) management and administration; (c) monitoring and evaluation activities; (d) financial management; (e) procurement; (f) environmental and social risk management; (g) interventions designed to promote: (i) gender inclusion and (ii) equity in the availability, accessibility, and quality of healthcare services; (h) the development of an integrated data system for facility readiness assessment and inventory management; (i) human resource development (HRD) training.

In this regard, to meet the project's needs, the Ministry of Health will conduct recruitment for expert personnel to serve as consultants in various positions.

2. OBJECTIVES

The primary objective of this recruitment announcement is to identify and engage a diverse team of highly qualified consultants who will provide specialized expertise in key areas critical to the success of the Indonesia Health System Strengthening (IHSS) Project. By recruiting experts in data analyst – result framework, MoH aims to build a robust and multidisciplinary team capable of addressing the complex challenges facing Indonesia's healthcare system. This consultant will collaborate closely with government stakeholders, international development partners, and local communities to ensure the effective implementation of project activities, ultimately contributing to the enhancement of healthcare services and the promotion of equitable access to quality healthcare across the country.
